

Class Attorneys' Statement Regarding Alan Gross

We are saddened to report to you that the lead Plaintiff Alan Gross passed away in April of this year.

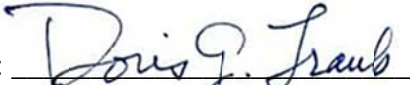

Alan was an individual of great integrity who believed in courageously fighting for what is fair and just, without regard to how taking action might result in risk to him professionally. He saw the inequity in the treatment of part-time Field Representatives and Senior Field Representatives with respect to their Sunday pay and he took action – meeting with us, retaining us, and encouraging us every step of the way through the granting of summary judgment and the early stages of working toward calculation of judgments.

We remember Alan as an unusual combination of resolute dedication in pursuing this case and a most generous personality, supportive of his legal team and of other Class Members as his colleagues and partners in this action. Alan will be greatly missed by us all as we press forward on the cause he championed.

Rest assured that Alan's death will not impact on your right of recovery. The case will proceed with Joseph Gallimore as the new named plaintiff on behalf of all of the Class Members. We are grateful to Mr. Gallimore for his willingness to serve in this capacity.

Very truly yours,
